ARTICLE

This month's article is a compilation of tech trends compiled by the EdTechStaff. A 2017 study by BlackBoard and Project Tomorrow, identifies five essential elements that teachers need to integrate digital content into their classrooms; 1)planning time with colleagues, 2)a class set of student devices, 3)available tech support, 4)professional development and 5)reliable internet. The New Media Consortium in their K-12 2017 Horizon report predicts the following technologies to have an impact in the classroom in the next five years; makerspaces, robotics, analytics, virtual reality, artificial intelligence and the internet of things.
